

Handheld Wireless Microphone

Comtek proudly introduces the M-182, a radically new handheld wireless microphone. With performance that can only be matched by its appearance, the M-182 is designed for the truly discriminating.

Incredible battery efficiency sets this microphone transmitter apart from all others. Up to 50 hours of continuous operation is possible from three AA readily available alkaline batteries. This high efficiency feature greatly reduces battery failure (the number one cause of wireless microphone problems) giving more reliable and trouble-free operation. Plus, the M-182 still maintains the maximum F.C.C. allotted R.F. power output even with this low power consumption.

For variety, the M-182 handheld microphone has three distinctively different finishes and interchangeable windscreen options.

- Matte black
- Satin black
- Cloud white
